

Why Market is falling ???

- Domestic political jitters coupled with global uncertainty is adding fuel to the fire as most global ETF funds are making loss in India.
- ETF funds are already making losses in India and with political uncertainty clouding investment climate, they are withdrawing money.

Politically Uncertainty...

- The Dravida Munnetra Kazhagam (DMK) pulled out of the ruling UPA coalition, jeopardising Prime Minister Mr. Manmohan Singh's economic reforms but posing no immediate threat to the minority government, which can survive with the support of other parties.
- The withdrawal of the DMK could hamper the government's efforts to rein in the budget deficit, spur growth in Asia's third-largest economy and stave off the threat of a downgrade by global credit ratings agencies.
- Markets have been hostage to political events and the recent comments made by the BJP's senior-most leader Mr. LK Advani sparked fresh worries of early elections.
- Mr. Advani said that Lok Sabha elections could be held earlier than scheduled, even this year. Continued political uncertainty and negative FII flows flared fresh worries in the mind of investors.
- However, commenting on Mr. Advani's statement, Mr. Bibek Debroy said that he doesn't see any material trigger to early polls as yet. MR. Debroy however admitted that there is a lot of anti-incumbency around.

Technically Speaking...

Market Mantra !!

- To most investors, just surviving a bear market is more important than finding the next jet-fueled growth stock.
- But we want to let you in on a secret: Rather than just trying to survive, investors can actually thrive in bear markets. In fact, we make a lot more money a lot faster in bear markets than we do in bull markets.
- After all, stocks and most other asset classes typically fall faster than they rise, because "Fear is a much stronger motivator than Greed".
- So if you're not making money in a market like this one - where prices are falling, even plummeting - you're missing out.
- It's time to change that. And we are going to show you how to make profit from current situation.
